2. International Workshop
“Resisting the Path to Genocide”: Groups and Networks
September 6 – 8, 2012

Keynote Luncheon

Rescued from Memory:
Hidden Networks and Hidden Jews in the Holocaust

MARK ROSEMAN

Indiana University, Bloomington
Pat M. Glazer Chair, Jewish Studies Program
Professor, Department of History

Friday, September 7th, 1 pm
Doheny Library, Friends Lecture Hall, Room 240

Mark Roseman is a historian of modern Europe, with particular interests in the History of the Holocaust and in modern German history. His publications have covered a wide range of topics in German, European and Jewish history. His current research projects include a critical synthesis of recent work on Nazi perpetrators, and a project looking at a life-reform and resistance group in Germany 1920-2000.

For further information and RSVP contact: Alida Liberman, research assistant, aliberma@usc.edu