University of Southern California
Non-Tenure-Track Lecturer Positions, East Asian Languages and Cultures

The Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California, may have one or more openings for non-tenure-track (NTT) lecturers for the 2013-14 academic year, full-time and part-time, to assist with undergraduate instruction. The department provides students with a well-rounded education in the languages, literatures, and cultures of China, Japan and Korea, including literatures of all periods, film, media studies, and cultural studies. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in a relevant field of study by the start of the appointment and previous teaching experience.

To apply please send a cover letter, CV, and three letters of recommendation that speak to teaching abilities to: ealcsearch@dornsife.usc.edu.

In order to be considered for this position, applicants are also required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: https://jobs.usc.edu/applicants/Central?quickFind=70648

Review of complete applications will begin July 1, 2013 and continue as needed.

USC strongly values diversity and is committed to equal opportunity in employment. Women and men, and members of all racial and ethnic groups, are encouraged to apply.
