Congratulations Gayla!

Raubenheimer Award:

Gayla Margolin wins the Dornsife College’s most distinguished award: The Raubenheimer Senior Faculty Award. The award is based on outstanding contributions to teaching, scholarship and service. Gayla’s 35 years at USC exemplifies excellence. Our clinical program and students have directly benefited from her contributions in each of those areas. Congratulations Gayla!! Both faculty and students are proud to call you our colleague, our mentor, and our professor.

Come Learn More:

♦ Monday, December 2nd from 11:30 to 12:45 pm

We will watch a 50-minute video of Helen Neville’s William James Address at the 25th Annual Convention of APS entitled “Experiential, Genetic, and Epigenetic Effects in Human Neurocognitive Development.” Helen Neville is the Director of the Brain Development Lab at the University of Oregon. I selected this video because it Integrates a neuroscience perspective with a family intervention to promote enhanced behavioral and neural outcomes in children attending Head Start programs. Professor Antoine Bechara in BCS will serve as a discussant of the research presented by Neville and initiate our conversation. Erika will send a copy of the article that focuses on the family intervention to provide some background to the research. Please read the paper in preparation for the brown bag presentation and ensuing discussion. It should be fun.

Clinical Faculty Meetings

- Dec. 4th

  Faculty meetings are scheduled in SGM 901

  Please send agenda items to: quinly@usc.edu