♦ Monday, September 9th, from 11:30 to 12:45 pm
Please join us at the year’s first brown-bag to help welcome the first year students and, Professor Dan Nation a first year faculty member. There will be 2 student panels. The first will be comprised of the six new students. They will each introduce themselves. Then four advanced graduate students, Bruna Martins, Addie Timmons, Taona Chithambo and Caitlin Smith have agreed to offer sage words of advice, something that was helpful to them or something that they wished they knew at the beginning of their graduate school journey. Professor Dan Nation will then serve as the discussant and react to the points raised by the advanced students or reflect on his days as a graduate student. It should be fun!

♦ Wednesday, September 11th, 10-11:25 am, PSC-201
Gayla Margolin will provide an orientation for all students applying for internship next year. This meeting is required for all those applying for internship and will address a number of important topics including the preparation of your application letter.

♦ Monday, October 14th, from 9:00 to 4:30 pm
A. Steven Frankel, Ph.D., J.D. will present a workshop on ethics entitled “Dancing with the Risks: Safe steps, tricky steps, landmines.” Dr. Frankel is not only a leading authority of the law and clinical practice, but he is an outstanding presenter. He has a very practical and engaging approach in addressing ethical issues. Dr. Frankel has a longstanding relationship with our department as he was a professor of psychology at USC and director of clinical training. He is the founding President and Curriculum Director of the Steve Frankel Group and has a thriving practice in which he integrates a psychology and legal practice. We are most fortunate that he has agreed to visit us once again and share his considerable expertise. For his bio check:
