Visiting Assistant Professor
Twentieth Century United States History
2018-2019

The Department of History at Claremont McKenna College invites applications for a one-year, non-tenure track appointment as Visiting Assistant Professor of U.S. History for 2018-2019. This is a sabbatical replacement position. The department seeks a scholar of the twentieth century and is especially interested in candidates whose research focuses on political and urban history. The successful candidate will teach five courses, including a course on politics and society in the U.S. since 1945, and ideally a course on the history of Los Angeles and/or California as well as other courses in the candidate’s area of specialization. A PhD with teaching experience is preferred, but the department will consider an ABD with teaching experience.

Please submit a cover letter, c.v., brief description of three possible courses, and two letters of reference via email to Lily Geismer (lily.geismer@claremontmckenna.edu). Review of applicants will begin on March 14, 2018.

Claremont McKenna College is an equal opportunity employer. Claremont McKenna College hires and promotes individuals on the basis of their qualifications, consistent with applicable state and federal laws, without regard to race, color, religion, gender, pregnancy, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, age, marital status, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition, or sexual orientation. Inquiries may be directed to the Director for Human Resources, 400 N. Claremont Blvd., Claremont, California 91711-4015, (909) 621-8490.

Employment is contingent upon new employees providing documents verifying U.S. citizenship or, for aliens, documents verifying legal permission to work in the United States.