CAL POLY POMONA’S COLLEGE OF LETTERS ARTS AND SOCIAL SCIENCES PRESENTS

From the Ground Up: Agriculture and the Environment in History Guest Lecture

“Food Justice: A New Social Movement Takes Root"
Professor Robert Gottlieb, Occidental College
Thursday May 5, 12-1pm
Bldg. 15 Room 1802

Robert Gottlieb is Professor of Urban and Environmental Policy and Director of the Urban & Environmental Policy Institute (UEPI) at Occidental College. He is the author and co-author of numerous books and articles, including his most recent book project, co-authored by Anupama Joshi, Food Justice, published in 2010 by MIT Press. A long-time activist and historian of social movements, Professor Gottlieb has been directly engaged in policy, program development and community action projects in such areas as food systems, transportation and land use, the urban environment, resource policy, and work and industry.