The Department of French and Italian at USC offers students the opportunity to improve their knowledge of French language, literature, and culture – while earning four university credits this summer – during our four-week summer program. Dijon, at the gates of France’s most famous wine region, is the capital of Burgundy. The city, which has a famous university, is renowned as an art center. Strategically situated at one of the leading European crossroads, Dijon is an important center of commerce and industry, two hours southeast by train from Paris and three hours from Geneva, Switzerland. Students will have the opportunity to participate in a variety of extra-curricular activities. Several excursions are planned for the weekends so that the students may discover some of France’s historical and artistic treasures.
