

ROAD

TO THE

WHITE HOUSE: POLITICS, MEDIA & TECHNOLOGY

Pick a President, Not a Party: How Americans Elect will Impact the 2012 Election

"What if you could pick your choice for president?" Non-partisan Americans Elect envisions a new online, direct form of democracy for 2012—an election in which voters pick a president, not a party. Combining modern technology with the age-old American value of free voice and the power of choice, Americans Elect offers voters the opportunity online to nominate a presidential ticket on the ballot to qualify in all 50 states. Join Americans Elect CEO Kahlil Byrd and a panel of political experts for a discussion on how Americans Elect will impact the 2012 election.

Wednesday, Nov. 16th

The Forum (RTCC 450)

Located in the campus center

FREE FOOD!

Served at 11:30AM

Discussion begins at noon

Featuring:

Kahlil Byrd, Chief Executive Officer, Americans Elect
Darry Sragow, Professor, USC Department of Political Science
Christian Grose, Professor, USC Department of Political Science
Asher Feldman, Editor in Chief, Daily Trojan

Moderated by:

Dan Schnur, Director, Jesse M. Unruh Institute of Politics

For more information: unruhins@usc.edu • www.usc.edu/unruh • 213-740-8964

STUDENTS
TALK BACK
WEEKLY
DISCUSSION SERIES

USC JUDITH & JOHN
Bedrosian Center
ON GOVERNANCE AND THE PUBLIC ENTERPRISE

USC ANNEBERG CENTER ON COMMUNICATION LEADERSHIP & POLICY
Shaping the future of news, information and civic discourse

Jesse M. Unruh
Institute of Politics

SPPD
SCHOOL OF POLICY,
PLANNING, AND DEVELOPMENT

USC | ANNEBERG
School for Communication & Journalism

USC | DANA and DAVID
DORNSIFE COLLEGE of LETTERS, ARTS and SCIENCES