Title of Entry: I Am Dornsife. James is Dornsife
Statement – typed 250 words or less describing the meaning behind your entry and what inspired you. Use the space below or attach a typed document to your submission form.

Being a student in USC Dornsife means so much more than your typical definition of a student. It is so unlike what it means to be a business student in Marshall or what it means to be an engineering student in Viterbi. Being a Dornsife student means you are able to appreciate a wide variety of learning styles and actively engage in activities that may be outside of your direct career interests. As can be seen in my video, Dornsife students are well-rounded individuals who can comfortably participate in articulate conversations and other activities while still being about to focus as much strength and energy into work that is generally viewed as more academic. My video accurately illustrates how Dornsife students are passionate about service and dedicated to a diverse spectrum of causes. As USC Dornsife students we recognize the importance of pursuing an education that does not limit us to just one particular career or career path. We are the fun, energetic students on campus that are excited about going to class and partaking in open-minded discussions and practical field experiences that force us question our morals and reshape our value systems. I was heavily inspired by my ability to manage my time effectively and participate in a variety of different ways and by seeing other Dornsife students do the same. And if nothing else, we are the proud. We are the many. We are the future. We are USC Dornsife.
