The USC Center for the Study of Immigrant Integration invites you to attend

IMMIGRANT LABOR STRUGGLES: HONORING VISIONARY, EDNA BONACICH

featuring:

MICHAEL BURAWOY, UC BERKELEY SOCIOLOGY
JUAN DE LARA, USC AMERICAN STUDIES & ETHNICITY
LOLA SMALLWOOD CUEVAS, LOS ANGELES BLACK WORKER CENTER
KENT WONG, UCLA LABOR CENTER

Join us in celebration as we honor Edna Bonacich, Professor Emeritus of Sociology at the University of California Riverside and a pioneering scholar-activist, who helped to set the stage for immigrant labor studies. Her work has impacted the way we study and advocate for racial and gender equity in the working class. She has made countless contributions to the field, some include: The Garment Industry in the Restructuring Global Economy (Temple University, 1994), Behind the Label: Inequality in the Los Angeles Apparel Industry (University of California Press, 2000), Immigrant Entrepreneurs: Koreans in Los Angeles (University of California Press, 1991), and The Economic Basis of Ethnic Solidarity Small Business in the Japanese American Community (University of California Press, 1980).

The event will feature current researchers and advocates and will focus on the continuing struggles of immigrant labor rights. The event is free and open to the public. Please also join us for a reception afterward in celebration of our 2nd Biennial Immigration Scholar Activist Award.
