LEVAN | OXFORD WORKSHOP
September 7-14, 2014, New York City, NY
The Levan Institute partners with the Oxford Institute for Ethics, Law and Armed Conflict to offer two workshops per year on ethics and human rights. The Fall 2014 seminar will meet at the United Nations, speaking with key representatives about human rights, security, vulnerability, and the Millennium Development Goals.

VIRTUES AND VICES: COURAGE
Co-sponsored by Thematic Option Honors Program and Levan Fellows
Monday, September 29, 2014, THH 201 | 5 PM
Join us for a wide-ranging student discussion that tries to get at the virtue of courage.

Coffeehouse Conversations on Practical Ethics
Where faculty, staff, and students from every part of our USC community are encouraged to engage in dialogue about the ethical questions for the day.

COLLEGE ATHLETICS: PLAY OR WORK?
Wednesday, October 8, 2014, Ground Zero Café | Noon
IS IT TIME TO ABOLISH THE DEATH PENALTY?
Wednesday, November 12, 2014, Ground Zero Café | Noon

Spirit of the Law
Co-sponsored by the Office of Religious Life
A speaker series featuring legal professionals discussing how they find meaning, purpose, and identity in the law.

HON. BERNARD J. KAMINS, JUDGE LOS ANGELES SUPERIOR COURT (RET)
Tuesday, September 23, 2014, Gould School of Law 2 | 12:30 PM
CRAIG KEYS, ASSOCIATE SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, USC CIVIC ENGAGEMENT
Tuesday, October 21, 2014, Gould School of Law 130 | 12:30 PM

FILM SCREENING: NORTHERN LIGHT
Co-sponsored by the School of Cinematic Arts
Winner, Most Innovative Feature, 2013 Visions Du Réel, Switzerland
Winner, Best Cinematography, 2013 New Orleans Film Festival, Louisiana

GIVE & TAKE NARRATIVES
Information Session: Wednesday, September 17, 2014, THH 348 | 3:30 PM
Give & Take Narratives volunteer project gives undergraduate USC students the opportunity to use film as a tool in reflecting upon their own perceptions, encounters, and ethical dilemmas in their domestic and overseas alternative break trips.

TEACHING ETHICS PROGRAM (TEP)
Training Sessions:
Wednesday, September 3, 2014, THH 212 | 7-9 PM
Thursday, September 4, 2014, THH 108 | 4-6 PM
TEP trains undergraduate volunteers each year to introduce competing ethical perspectives and lead ethics case study discussions in area high schools.

NEW LEVAN INSTITUTE E-JOURNAL—SOCIAL JUSTICE REVIEW
The Levan Institute will launch this new international, multidisciplinary undergraduate e-journal in Spring 2015.

NEW LEVAN INSTITUTE MINOR IN INTERNATIONAL HEALTH, DEVELOPMENT, AND SOCIAL JUSTICE
This new interdisciplinary minor will prepare students for careers and leadership roles in arenas such as political economy, health and wellness, gender equity, global medicine, economic development, human welfare, and social justice.

ZYGO STUDENT LUNCHTIME SERIES ON ETHICS IN MEDICINE
Hobby Lobby: The Ethics of Healthcare between Corporation, Church and State
Friday, September 26, 2014, Doheny Memorial Library 241 | 12:30 PM
Pharmaceutical Access: Global Drug Management and Underserved Populations
Friday, October 24, 2014, Doheny Memorial Library 241 | 12:30 PM
Doctors vs. Parents: Decision-making in Pediatrics
Friday, November 21, 2014, Doheny Memorial Library 241 | 12:30 PM
Learn more and RSVP at dornsife.usc.edu/levan

MEDICAL HUMANITIES
Visions & Voices
Co-sponsored by Keck School of Medicine’s Program in Medical Humanities, Arts, and Ethics and the USC Pacific Center for Health Policy and Ethics
The Amygdala and the Stethoscope: How Emotions Affect the Practice of Medicine, A Lecture by Danielle Ofri
Monday, September 22, 2014, Mayer Auditorium, Health Sciences Campus | 11:30 AM

MEDICINE AND THE IMAGE: THE VISIBLE HUMAN Conference
Wednesday, November 5, 2014, Doheny Memorial Library 240
8:30 AM–7 PM
Image Exhibition
November 3–7, 2014, Von Kleinsmid Center Courtyard
Reception, November 5 | 4 PM
From the anatomical drawings of Vesalius to contemporary MRI and CT scans, images create and popularize medical knowledge as well as influence diagnosis and treatment. This one-day conference will explore how the human body and its experiences of illness are made visible in medical research, practice and education. Events for the day include interdisciplinary research presentations on the relationship between medicine and images; a career roundtable for students interested in the health humanities; a keynote lecture on the ethics of using virtual reality (VR) simulation technology for clinical purposes; and a public gallery exhibit of medical images.

NEW LEVAN INSTITUTE MINOR IN INTERNATIONAL HEALTH, DEVELOPMENT, AND SOCIAL JUSTICE
This new interdisciplinary minor will prepare students for careers and leadership roles in arenas such as political economy, health and wellness, gender equity, global medicine, economic development, human welfare, and social justice.