Joan Piggott is the Gordon L. MacDonald Professor of History and Director of the Project for Premodern Japan Studies. She is the author of The Emergence of Japanese Kingship (Stanford, 1999); Dictionary of Sources of Classical Japan (with Ivo Smiths, Michel Viellard-Baron, Ineke von Put, and Charlotte von Verschuer; College de France, 2006); Capital and Countryside in Japan 300-1180 (Cornell East Asia Series, 2006); and Teishinkoki, The Year 939 in the Journal of Regent Fujiwara no Tadahira (with Sanae Yoshida; Cornell East Asia Series, 2008). She is currently completing an annotated translation and research concerning Fujiwara Akihira’s essay entitled, The New Monkey Music (Shinsarugakuki), which presents our best portrait of urban developments in the Heian capital during the mid-eleventh century. She is also editing an annotated translation of selections from Fujiwara no Munetada’s Chûyûki journal on the birth of Toba Tennô (r. 1107-23).
