

ANTHROPOLOGY 326: EUROPEAN FOLKLORE & ETHNOLOGY

Prof. Tok Thompson
Tu/Th 5- 6:20 THH 121

This course investigates the folklore of Europe, viewing European cultures and societies through an anthropological lens with a focus on shared, expressive cultural traditions. While noting the important political history of this subject, the course will emphasize the contemporary study of ongoing, and revitalized, traditions, among the various linguistic and cultural groups of Europe today.

