Latin America in Theory / Theory in Latin America: Aesthetics, Ethics, Politics

A two-day symposium at the University of Southern California
November 11-12, 2016

Join scholars of Latin American literature and philosophy at the University of Southern California for a two-day symposium in order to evaluate, collectively, the role of theory — specifically, around ethical and political thought — in Latin American studies.

Organized by Erin Graff Zivin and Brenno Kaneyasu Maranhao
