The Francophone Research & Resource Center is pleased to invite you to a new workshop that will provide tools for introducing authentic audiovisual material in the classroom, with an emphasis on decoding news content, creating and publishing your own audiovisual production. This workshop will also supply practical knowledge for teachers who aspire to enter the 2012 Green Connection contest (French Embassy) with their students!

March 3rd, 2012
8:30 AM: Welcome & Breakfast
9 AM – 4 PM: Workshop
USC – Von KleinSmid Center 152

LIMITED TO 30 PARTICIPANTS
ENROLL NOW!

To RSVP, please contact the Francophone Research & Resource Center: frc@usc.edu. For more information, please go to: https://dornsife.usc.edu/francophone-center/.
This workshop is organized with the support of the USC Libraries and the Cultural Services of the French Embassy to the United States of America.

By Gérard Colavecchio
CLEMI (Centre de liaison de l’enseignement et des médias d’information).

As a teacher’s trainer, he offers various workshops oriented towards online-radio practice and makes presentations about new information media networks on the Internet. He is also recognized as an expert in the production of media content designed for schools. He held a former position at Cité des Sciences et de l’Industrie, Paris, where he was in charge of leading technology practice training sessions aimed at teachers, socio-cultural facilitators and audience at large.