1914-2014: History and Cinema in the French classroom - The example of Joyeux Noël -

May, Saturday 10th
8.30am-4pm
USC Leavey Library, Auditorium

By the end of the workshop, attendees will have classroom-ready materials based on the film Joyeux Noël. Activities will be level-appropriate (elementary, intermediate or advanced French) for each participant’s students.

Anne-Christine Rice started teaching French language and culture through film in 1996, which led to her textbook, Cinema for French Conversation in 2000. She teaches at Tufts University and regularly presents at conferences. She published La France Contemporaine à travers ses films in 2010 and the 4th edition of Cinema for French Conversation in 2013.

For more information, please contact Béatrice Bennett: frc@usc.edu or bbennett@usc.edu.