American Society for Training & Development

A New Development Opportunity for USC Graduate & Undergraduate Students

Special Organizational Development Event!

Join Us Tuesday November 9th at 6:30PM
Tutor Campus Center - Conference Room 232
Light Refreshments Will Be Served

Join us while we engage with Organizational Development (OD) Practitioner Angie Smith as she explores the role of OD in today’s business world. Reflecting on her twenty years of experience in Training and Organizational Development at Hilton International, Nestle USA and Catholic Healthcare West (a $10 billion not-for-profit healthcare system), Angie will discuss topics such as the deployment of leadership development training, succession planning, and executive coaching.

Please RSVP by visiting our website or by emailing us at astd_usc@usc.edu
Seating is limited!

Visit our website to join our mailing list, RSVP for events, and learn about what we are planning. As a new organization, we are anxious to involve stakeholders from across the University. If you want to get involved, or have an idea for an innovative program, let us know!

About Us

The USC Chapter of the American Society for Training and Development was formed to unite USC undergraduate and graduate students interested in pursuing careers in human resources, corporate training, leadership development, change management, executive coaching, and organizational development.

Join us to explore career opportunities, discuss human capital philosophies, and to socialize with like-minded individuals.
