Experiment, an annual journal devoted to Russian culture, focuses on the movements of the early twentieth century which include both traditional and non-traditional avenues of academic enquiry. It is hoped that broader examination of all disciplines within critical discourse will provide a stronger and more precise definition of Russia's cultural accomplishments. Supervised by an editorial board of international stature, Experiment emphasizes an interdisciplinary approach, drawing upon archival sources while promoting and documenting the history of the Russian arts. The journal recognizes the achievements both of Imperial and Soviet Russia and of the diaspora.

Prepared by a guest editor or editors, each volume of Experiment consists of essays treating a particular theme or idea. Experiment is published under the auspices of the Institute of Modern Russian Culture at the University of Southern California, Los Angeles.
