Student: Required Participation in Poster Session

At the end of each fall and spring semester, the Department of Economics will hold an event to celebrate undergraduate research. As part of the event, students who receive credit for ECON 495 will be required to attend and participate in a poster session to share their research. Participation in this event is required to receive credit for ECON 495. Students who receive credit for ECON 495 in the fall or spring semesters will participate in the event at the end of every semester for which they receive credit for the course. Students who receive credit for ECON 495 in the summer will participate in the event at the end of the fall semester following the summer for which they receive credit for the course. Summer students will be required to submit a draft poster at the end of the summer session. The research event for the Fall 2019 semester will be held on November 22, 2019. The research event for the Spring 2020 semester will be held on April 24, 2020. Details about location and poster format will be provided.
