USC-Huntington Early Modern Studies Institute Annual Conference
Virginia 1619: A California Conversation
Friday, September 20, 2019

9:00am – Registration and Coffee

9:30am Opening Remarks
Peter C. Mancall, USC • Welcome
Paul P. Musselwhite, Dartmouth College • Virginia 1619 and Early Modernity

10:00am – Virginia 1619: The Book in Context
Moderator: Amy Watson, USC

Alexander Haskell, UC Riverside • Some Reflections on Politics at the Founding, circa 1619
Michael J. Jarvis, University of Rochester • Visualizing the Worlds of 1619
Alex Borucki, UC Irvine • The White Lion and the Intra-American Slave Trade Database at www.slavevoyages.org
Melissa N. Morris, University of Wyoming • 1619, Latin America, and Public Memory
James Rice, Tufts University • Continental Histories of The Jamestown Era
Jack P. Greene, Johns Hopkins University • 1619, On the Importance of Historical Reach: Some Reflections

12:30–Lunch

1:30pm—1619: The View from Beyond Virginia
Moderator: Edgardo Pérez Morales, USC

Emily Berquist Soule, CSU Long Beach • From Africa to the Ocean Sea: Slavery in the Origins of the Spanish Empire
Dana Velasco Murillo, UC San Diego • 1616: Conquest and Indigenous Slavery in Northern New Spain
Alejandra Dubcovsky, UC Riverside • 1619 from the Spanish Atlantic
Robert C. Ritchie, The Huntington Library • What About Paint?

2:45pm—Virginia, Slavery, and the Atlantic World, circa 1619
Moderator: Alice Baumgartner, USC

Katie Moore, UC Santa Barbara • Slavery and the Origins of American Money
Mark G. Hanna, UC San Diego • Jamestown, Nest of Pirates
Carole Shammas, USC • 1619—Questions about the Prequel and Sequel

3:45pm—1619: Legacies
Moderator: Julia Lewandoski, USC

Steven W. Hackel, UC Riverside • 1619/2019: Where Are We?
Carla Pestana, UCLA • 1619 As Synecdoche
Brenda Stevenson, UCLA • Considering 1619: Looking Back from Home
Lindsay O’Neill, USC • Echoes Of 1619: Slavery, Conversion & British Expansion 100 Years Later
Nathan Perl-Rosenthal, USC • Revolutionaries Look Back

5:15pm—Afterword
Peter C. Mancall, USC • Our Anniversaries, Our Selves