

April 22, 2024

Happy Monday! We hope you had a great weekend and are feeling empowered to finish out the semester strong! Please take some time now before finals to build out a realistic plan to help you accomplish everything on your plate for the rest of the semester. Academics are definitely important, but please don't forget to schedule in a good night's sleep (maybe even a nap!), proper nutrition, and time for your brain to unplug for a bit. A little downtime is beneficial!
