

An aerial photograph of the Guggenheim Museum Bilbao, a large, curved, stone-clad building situated on the banks of the Nervion River. The river flows through the city, reflecting the sky and the surrounding buildings. In the background, a tall, cylindrical glass skyscraper stands prominently. The sky is blue with scattered white clouds. The word "BILBAO" is overlaid in large, bold, white letters with a black outline across the center of the image.

BILBAO