

An aerial photograph of Madrid, Spain, taken during the "golden hour" of sunset. The sky is a vibrant blue with wispy white clouds, transitioning to a warm orange glow near the horizon. The city's architecture is a mix of classical and modern styles, with many buildings featuring ornate facades and balconies. A prominent feature is a large, curved building with a classical facade in the center. A wide street with traffic, including red double-decker buses, runs through the city. The word "MADRID" is superimposed in the center of the image in large, bold, white capital letters with a thick black outline.
