

An aerial photograph of Tokyo, Japan, taken at dusk. The sky is a deep, layered blue. The city is densely packed with buildings, many of which have their lights on. The Tokyo Tower, a prominent orange-lit structure, stands on the left side of the frame. In the center, the text 'TOKYO' is written in large, white, bold, sans-serif capital letters with a thick black outline. Below it, '(TIU)' is written in a smaller, similar font, also in white with a black outline. The overall scene captures the transition from day to night in a major metropolitan area.
