The Children of Vietnam

Photographs and Text by William F. Pepper

Preface by Dr. Benjamin Spock

A

As American soldiers are killed or wounded in the war in Vietnam, this poignant photo essay by William Pepper raises questions about our actions and responsibilities. This essay is a reminder of the human cost of war.

Preface by Dr. Benjamin Spock

Some of the photos are shocking and disturbing, but they are necessary to bring attention to the suffering of the Vietnam people. The text is informative and well-written, providing a deeper understanding of the situation.

A Vietnamese mother, herself and her child hungry, begs in the streets, presenting her infant as appeal for aid.

There is the forgotten legion of Vietnamese children in the cities and provincial towns—clinging together desperately in small parks, trying to survive. Usually they have threadbare clothing, and sometimes they go naked; they go unshod for months, perhaps forever; almost none have shoes.
