

The Carrie D. and C.J. Walker Endowed Scholarship Fund 2025–2026 Application for Travel Grants for Continuing Undergraduates

Established in the early 1900's, the Carrie D. and C.J. Walker Endowed Scholarship Fund provides assistance for students majoring or minoring in Religion at the University of Southern California. Two award categories exist:

Merit Awards are given to undergraduate students majoring or minoring in Religion who demonstrate academic excellence. The support can be used for tuition only. To apply for a merit award, please do not use this application. Instead, use the general USC Dornsife Continuing Student Scholarship online application (available at <http://dornsife.usc.edu/css>) and submit a copy of your best essay written for a Religion course at USC, which will be used as the supplemental essay for the Walker Scholarship.

Research and Travel Grants are given to undergraduate students majoring or minoring in Religion who have the best proposals to use funds for scholarly research, travel, or other departmentally approved programs. Funds will be applied to items such as travel expenses, conference fees, tuition expenses for off-campus language study, or research materials, and can be used in the summer months. To apply for a travel grant, please use this application. Grant notifications will be sent by the end of April.
