Course Description and Objectives:

This course offers students at an elementary level and above an opportunity to enhance their reading skills as well as developing the pleasure of reading utilizing Extensive Reading (a.k.a. Graded Reading) method with the materials strategically collected by the Japanese Language Program in collaboration with USC East Asian Library. Students are guided to read as many pages as possible without using dictionaries while the instructor carefully monitors their reading behavior and gives advice and suggestions to improve their reading skills.

In this course, the emphasis is put on acquiring the skill to enjoy the contents without translation. Gradually shifting to the materials of higher levels, students will find themselves absorbing the contents without translating each word or sentence into English. Combined with other activities such as small group discussion, shadowing, presenting and writing book reports, students will develop general language competence, knowledge of vocabulary, prediction skills, as well as writing and speaking skills. The main part of the class will be reading lab and student-instructor consultations.

Course Units and Registration Options:

Academic Integrity

This course will follow the expectations for academic integrity as stated in the USC Student Handbook. All students are expected to submit assignments that are original work and prepared specifically for the course/section in this academic term. You may not submit work written by others or “recycle” work prepared for other courses without obtaining written permission from the instructor(s). Students suspected of engaging in academic misconduct will be reported to the Office of Academic Integrity. (Refer to “Academic Integrity” on page 6 of this syllabus.)

Policy for the use of AI Generators and translation apps in this course

Since individual growth and originality are the focal point of this course, AI generators and translation apps are not considered as useful tools; hence the use of such tools are not permitted in this course unless otherwise explained by the student and agreed by the instructor.

Assessment and course policies:1. Participation

You are expected to attend all classes and to be punctual. If you need to be absent from a class for any reason, try to contact the instructor as soon as possible so that you will not miss any information. If you need to be absent because of a legitimate reason such as illness, you should make a request of (1) extension of homework due and (2) make-up of missed work by providing timely notice and the reason of absence to the instructor. If you are absent from class for two classes consecutively without any information/contact provided to the instructor, it is considered as a sign of withdrawal from the course, and no handouts or information will be saved for such students thereafter.

If you need to be absent from a class because of a religious observance, you must let the instructor know about it within the first two weeks of the semester.

Your class participation is evaluated every day -- 10 points per session. If you do NOT try to engage in discussion or in reading, it negatively affects your grade.

If you miss 40 percent or more of total class time during the semester, you will automatically receive an F, regardless of your performance in the class.

2. Assignments

The course emphasizes on individual growth and the pleasure of reading, so the submitted or presented assignments will not be graded by unified standards or rubrics. The timely submission of each assignment will receive the full mark. The students are always encouraged to talk to the instructor and classmates about the assignments for any questions or comments.

2-1. Reading Log:

You keep the record of your reading (= Reading Log) using a personalized Google form sent to you by the instructor. The log should include:

- (1) title
- (2) level
- (3) brief comments on each of the books you read in class and at home.
- (4) page numbers if you did not finish the whole book

You should also record the books you read outside of class, you used for Shadowing or Listening, or the books you did not finish (put the pages).

You earn two points per week: one point for the book(s) you read during the week and one point for timely recording (From the start of class to the start of the following week's class; 3:00 on a Wednesday to 2:59 on the following Wednesday). If you read a book (or books) during the week but recorded it (them) in the following week, you will earn one point only.

2-2. Read for class

During the first half of the semester, you will read a book for class (approx. 3 – 5 minutes). The book should be chosen from Level 0 or 1 with the consultation with the instructor. You should practice reading the book you chose by yourself and with the instructor (during Office Hours or by appointment) so your classmates can understand and enjoy the story.

2-3. Oral book reports

There are two oral book reports. On the day of Oral Book Report I (Week 5), everybody does the report to class. Please introduce the book(s) you were impressed to class and answer the questions from the classmates. The report should include the title, level, a summary of the story and your impression of the book. Oral Book Report II will be presented each week by one or two students at the beginning of class. Schedule of Oral Book Report II will be discussed in class.

2-4. Presentation

You are giving a presentation in Week 13. This is to show how you enjoyed reading books or to show how the class activities stimulated your creativity. You can use the similar story/illustration styles you read, or you can unleash your original ideas. Choose one from the following three options as your presentation format:

- a. Make your own story/song/game/anime, etc. with the theme inspired by the activities of this course and present it with visual aid (pictures, photos, slides, etc.)
- b. Pick up one of the picture books without text (or with few text), tell your own story along with the book.
- c. Act out story from a book (by yourself or with your classmate)

QA session will follow your presentation.

Submission of all materials is due on Thursday, November 21st, 3:00p.m.

2-5. Written book report (Final project)

The final book report should be typed using Japanese word processor and it should include the title, level, a summary of the story, and your impression of the book. The choice of the book should be discussed with the instructor before you write the report. The report is due on the day scheduled for Final Examination: 2:00 p.m., Friday, May 9th. Late submission will lose 10% each hour after the due time.

2-6. Individual goal and assessment

Although the major goal of this course is to enjoy extensive reading on one's own pace, each student should set one's own goal for the semester depending on their needs. By Week 3, the students submit their individual goal plan based on the consultation with the instructor. At the last class (Week 15), the students submit the assessment of their achievement toward the goal.

Academic Integrity

The University of Southern California is foremost a learning community committed to fostering successful scholars and researchers dedicated to the pursuit of knowledge and the transmission of ideas. Academic misconduct is in contrast to the university's mission to educate students through a broad array of first-rank academic, professional, and extracurricular programs and includes any act of dishonesty in the submission of academic work (either in draft or final form).

This course will follow the expectations for academic integrity as stated in the USC Student Handbook. All students are expected to submit assignments that are original work and prepared specifically for the course/section in this academic term. You may not submit work written by others or "recycle" work prepared for other courses without obtaining written permission from the instructor(s). Students suspected of engaging in academic misconduct will be reported to the Office of Academic Integrity.

Other violations of academic misconduct include, but are not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, fabrication (e.g., falsifying data), knowingly assisting others in acts of academic dishonesty, and any act that gains or is intended to gain an unfair academic advantage.

Academic dishonesty has a far-reaching impact and is considered a serious offense against the university. Violations will result in a grade penalty, such as a failing grade on the assignment or in the course, and disciplinary action from the university itself, such as suspension or even expulsion.

For more information about academic integrity see the student handbook or the Office of Academic Integrity's website, and university policies on Research and Scholarship Misconduct.

Please ask your instructor if you are unsure what constitutes unauthorized assistance on an exam or assignment or what information requires citation and/or attribution.

Students and Disability Accommodations:

USC welcomes students with disabilities into all of the University's educational programs. The Office of Student Accessibility Services (OSAS) is responsible for the determination of appropriate accommodations for students who encounter disability-related barriers. Once a student has completed the OSAS process (registration, initial appointment, and submitted documentation) and accommodations are determined to be reasonable and appropriate, a Letter of Accommodation (LOA) will be available to generate for each course. The LOA must be given to each course instructor by the student and followed up with a discussion. This should be done as early in the semester as possible as accommodations are not retroactive. More information can be found at osas.usc.edu. You may contact OSAS at (213) 740-0776 or via email at osasfrontdesk@usc.edu.

Student Financial Aid and Satisfactory Academic Progress:

To be eligible for certain kinds of financial aid, students are required to maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) toward their degree objectives. Visit the Financial Aid Office webpage for undergraduate- and graduate-level SAP eligibility requirements and the appeals process.
