Private Connoisseurs, Public Collections: A West Coast Perspective on Collecting Japanese Prints in the U.S. - Talk by Dr. Jeannie Kenmotsu

Thursday, February 7, 2019 | 5:00PM-6:30PM | Location TBA | FLYER | RSVP

Please join the USC Department of Art History and East Asian Studies Center for a talk by Dr. Jeannie Kenmotsu. Japanese woodblock prints were met with an enthusiastic audience in the U.S. in the late-19th and early-20th centuries. However, our current understanding of early print collecting has been filtered largely through the prism of specific private collectors based on the east coast. This lecture explores the lesser known contours of collecting Japanese art on the west coast. It reframes the story of early print collecting in the U.S. through an alternative but nonetheless foundational case study: an early donation of nearly 750 Edo-period (1603-1868) woodblock prints to the Portland Art Museum, Oregon.

In Memoriam: Professor Otto Schnepf

It is with great sadness that we write about the passing of the former Director of EASC from 1994-2000, Prof. Emeritus Otto Schnepf. Otto Schnepf played a vital role in the development of the USC East Asian Studies Center by encouraging and supporting many academic activities related to Asia during his directorship. He will be greatly missed by all in the EASC community. Please click here to view an interview of Otto Schnepf as part of "The Living History of USC" project organized by the USC Emeriti

Center. The interview was conducted on November 17, 2000 by Prof. Stanley Rosen.
