WELCOME BACK EASC COMMUNITY!

We hope you had a relaxing and safe Winter Recess! The image above depicts the annual return of the Siberian Seagulls to Dianchi Lake in Kunming, China. Kunming, like Los Angeles, is a city known for its perpetually warm weather, attracting thousands of seagulls to fly in at the start of the year, escaping the frigid winter of Siberia. Wherever you are returning from, we are happy to welcome you back to sunny Los Angeles and wish you a Happy New Year!

EASC has a full calendar of events this semester and invites you to join us at our upcoming Spring 2022 EASC events. They will include our continued professionalization activities such as the Grad Professionalization Series on public speaking with professors Jenny Chio and Sherry Zaks and academic publishing with Christian Phillips and Brett Sheehan; as well as the EASC Faculty Book Launch and EASC Manuscript Review for Jenny Chio.

EASC will continue the EASC New Book Series on Modern Japan and Sinophone Studies which introduce recent publications to the USC community and the wider public and the series on Regulatory Science: East Asian Perspectives on the topic of Sustainability in the Post-Covid Era, as well as in-person lectures by Todd Henry (University of California, San Diego) and Kei Koga (Nanyang Technological University).

Student Journal of Asian Studies @ USC

Website | Submit a paper

The USC Student Journal for Asian Studies (SJAS@USC) is a student-run journal created by Emmy Austin, Dione Simmons, Atharva Tewari and Hannah Skinner to publish undergraduate and graduate research in various disciplines in Asian studies. They are currently looking for publication submissions from different disciplines and the applications are not restricted to any particular major/minor/department.

Publication submissions will be considered on a rolling basis until January 28, 2022. For more details on formatting guidelines and expectations, please see the SJAS website and find them on Instagram @uscjas.

This journal is supported by the East Asian Studies Center.
