JOB OPPORTUNITY

EASC Program Officer/Assistant

LINK TO APPLY | JOB DESCRIPTION

It is with regret that we announce Jasmine Yu will be leaving the USC East Asian Studies Center to accept a position as the Academic Program Specialist of the Dornsife Ph.D. Academy. Her last day at EASC will be Friday, September 17. We want to thank Jasmine for her many wonderful contributions to our Center!

We are in the process of seeking a new EASC Program Officer/Assistant to join our team as soon as possible. If you know of any interested and qualified candidates who would be committed to the EASC mission, please refer them to the position posting and encourage them to apply as soon as possible. We have also included a copy of the job description and position requirements here. Please feel free to email Grace Ryu with interested candidates at gryu@usc.edu.

NEW EASC COURSE

EASC 595 (#25822)

Publishing/Editing, Translation, and Design

Instructor: Miya Elise Desjardins (miyae@usc.edu)

The USC East Asian Studies Center is offering a new 2-unit practicum workshop for Fall 2021 and Spring 2022 - EASC 595: Publishing/Editing, Translation, and Design.

The class will be conducted as a practicum workshop in which students will contribute on many fronts to the entirety of the publication process of Review of Japanese Culture and Society, a peer-reviewed journal distributed by the University of Hawai'i Press. Students will learn about planning of issues, grant writing/fundraising, permissions to work (text and image), translation work, peer-review process, content-based editing, copyediting, on-demand publishing, and cover design, layout design, web design, and promotion design.

If you want hands-on experience on journal publishing, translation work, design and more, contact Prof. Miya Elise Desjardins to request D-clearance to register.
