Dornsife Majors and Minors Fair

Wednesday, October 4 | 11:00-2:00 | Trousdale Parkway

The Dornsife Majors and Minors Fair is happening next Wednesday! Please stop by the EASC table and learn more about our East Asian Area Studies (EAAS) Major and Minor as well as our Korean Studies Minor. The EAAS major and minor are complementary to other majors and schools! We will have sample course lists available to look at if you are interested in taking any East Asian-related courses as well as an opportunity to meet current EAAS students. We hope to see you there!

EVENT REMINDER

EASC Undergraduate Mixer

Friday, October 6 | 2:00-3:30 | CAS 100

Come meet other students interested in East Asia while enjoying food, drink, and conversation. We would love to invite any other undergraduate students interested in East Asian media, study abroad in Asia, and research into East Asia topics. Please RSVP before this Friday!

Event Wrap! EASC Manuscript Review for Jessica Zu

Thank you to all our Manuscript Review participants for their thoughtful engagement during the EASC

Manuscript Review for Jessica Zu!

We want to especially thank the discussants, Jay Garfield and Dan

Lusthaus for their insightful feedback and comments. USC faculty and graduate students in East Asian Studies, Religion, Cinema & Media Arts, History, and Art History provided diverse perspectives to the review. We are honored to be able to support and be a part of such an amazing academic community!

Tenure Track Position - USC EALC Premodern Korean Studies

The Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures at the University of Southern California invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Premodern Korean Studies. The position is expected to begin August 2024. Applications from candidates working in any periods or disciplines of premodern Korea are welcome to apply. Relevant disciplines include, but are not limited to archeology, art history, history, literature and cultural studies, and religious studies. Priority will be given to candidates who combine a broad knowledge of archival resources with comparative and interregional methodologies that are applicable across linguistic, cultural, and political borders. The successful candidate will complement existing faculty strengths in the department and other related academic units, diversify and enhance undergraduate and graduate course offerings, and show a strong commitment to inclusive teaching and service. More Information ►

East Asian Library Resources

The East Asian Library (EAL) would like to extend their heartfelt appreciation to everyone who took part in the EAL user survey this past spring. Drawing from invaluable feedback, they are introducing two initiatives this Fall to enhance their services.

East Asian Library mailing list

You are invited to join the East Asian Library mailing list! Keep updated on EAL collections, resources, exhibits, programs, events, and more throughout the academic year. Please fill out the sign-up form here ►

East Asian Library New Book Lists

Thanks to strong support from the USC Libraries' Integrated Library System, EAL has created live lists featuring newly added Chinese, Japanese, and Korean titles to the EAL over the past four months. You can explore these titles and find more information in this library research guide ►
