

Please join us for a webinar to learn about the Emerging Methodologists Workshop (EMW)! Find out about the application process, hear from previous workshop participants and mentors, and ask questions. The webinar will take place in January 2024 via Zoom (<https://temple.zoom.us/j/8748618290>); the exact day and time of the webinar, as well as a recording, will be posted to the EMW website at <http://sigla.georgetown.domains/emworkshop/>.

The EMW is an annual invitation-only day-long workshop held the day prior to the start of the American Political Science Association (APSA) meetings. The next EMW takes place on September 4, 2024 in Philadelphia, PA. The EMW is sponsored by the APSA Qualitative and Multi-Method Research (QMMR) section and supported by generous funding from the National Science Foundation.

At each EMW, six scholars present and receive feedback on a paper they wrote and circulated in advance. Presenters receive intensive mentoring and join and build scholarly networks. The goal of the EMW is to increase the diversity of the community of scholars who develop, teach, and write about qualitative research methods and the conduct of multi-method research.

U.S.-based scholars are encouraged to submit proposals, which are due on February 1, 2024. Please contact us at emw.qmer@gmail.com with any questions. We look forward to seeing you in January 2024!
