This graduate seminar is an in-depth examination of subjects and themes that have emerged from the VSRI’s ongoing “Images Out of Time” project, which considers how images travel through time, dropping in and out of linear histories and reshaping perception, institutions, and social practices along the way. We will study images and objects that are at odds with the moment of their appearance, whether they outlived their initial function or lost contact with their original cultural contexts. Monuments to unjust pasts; icons manifesting fallen gods; ancient ruins in modern structures; replicas and forgeries; old images restored by new technologies: these images force a paradox into view.

While they endure within continuous histories, they also remain stubborn signs of vanished worlds, out of step with the present. Images in the wrong place at the wrong time have justified the civilizing mission of empire and acts of iconoclasm. They continue to structure debates about repatriating artifacts, dismantling monuments and museums, and preserving cultural heritage destroyed by war or exploitation. When “images out of time” suddenly upset our faith in the march of history, they challenge our ability to measure our distance from the past, to understand ourselves, and to imagine collective futures.

Lectures and readings for the course intersect art history, religious studies, history, anthropology, literature, and film, and cuts across divisions separating premodern and modern, as well as European, Atlantic, and Pacific spheres.

Course Structure
Sessions will take place three days per week, Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday, from 9:30 AM to 1:30 PM PST, with a comfort break halfway through. Monday sessions will be led by Professor Mitchell and Professor Schwartz; Wednesday generally will feature distinguished guest lectures; Thursdays will be for student group work which will be in the service of syllabus creation and preparation of course materials for an undergraduate lecture class, “Images out of Time.” The first Thursday will also feature a guest.

Course Requirements
Seminar Participation
Attend all seminar meetings and lectures, keep up with assigned readings, and engage thoughtfully in class discussions.

Please submit three concise questions or comments that focus on any of the assigned readings/visual materials for each session. Your submissions should demonstrate thoughtful synthesis of the material addressed and raise issues worth pursuing in our seminar conversation. These questions/comments will be due to our class wordpress website. Deadline for submission: 10 pm on Sundays and Tuesdays via email to wjtm@uchicago.edu and vschwart@usc.edu and also to class Slack. Wordpress address: https://6481f9e43dca8.site123.me

Aug 3: Images Out of Time Syllabus Finalized

Thursday Seminar Presentations

In weeks 2–4, our Thursday sessions will be dedicated to creating a syllabus for a class you might teach undergraduates called “images out of time.” Each student will be responsible for a week in the class and as part of that class each student will present a detailed entry on an “Image out of Time” that will also result in a 1500 word essay about the image. Models for this would be entries in “Getting the Picture” (see dropbox files) and also the BBC, “History of the World in 100 Objects.” Students will meet from 9:30-11:30 and Mitchell and Schwartz will join from Noon-1:30 on July 20 and August 3. On July 27 they will join at 10:30.

• July 20: Syllabus Framework
• July 27: Initial Presentation of “Images” by students

Students will divide syllabus into weeks and each student takes a week and prepares two lectures of 50 minutes (as powerpoints that are recorded in zoom) and selects readings and creates a folder of PDFs including their week of required readings and also assembles a folder of images as well. Their “Image out of Time” will ideally relate to their week. Half are due by August 6 and the other half by August 10. There will be a final session via Zoom where we all meet to discuss the lectures and the class. Date to be determined. Possibly August 18. This work, individual and collective, will determine the student’s final grade.

Statement on Academic Conduct and Support Systems

Academic Conduct:

Plagiarism – presenting someone else’s ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in SCampus in Part B, Section 11, “Behavior Violating University Standards” policy.usc.edu/scampus-part-b. Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in SCampus and university policies on scientific misconduct, policy.usc.edu/scientific-misconduct.
