

VISUAL STUDIES RESEARCH INSTITUTE

RSVP to vsri@usc.edu. See <https://dornsife.usc.edu/vsri/> for updated information.

SPRING 2025 EVENTS

USC-LACMA History of Photography Seminar

Color in Motion: Chromatic Explorations of Cinema

EXHIBITION TOUR with JESSICA NIEBEL
Senior Exhibitions Curator, Academy Museum

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 1

10:00am PST

Academy Museum of Motion Pictures

*Limited capacity, RSVP required

Color in Motion: Chromatic Explorations of Cinema investigates the role of color in film, from the scientific and technological advancements that made it possible, to its emotional and psychological impact on viewers, to the ways filmmakers use color as a storytelling tool.

The exhibition takes an immersive and innovative approach to understanding cinematic color through six unique galleries, each focusing on a different aspect of film color. Color in Motion engages visitors through dynamic, colorful film installations and features objects from the silent era through the digital age, including cameras, projectors, costumes, props, animation cels, and film posters.

RSVP
to vsri@usc.edu

Image Credit: The Wizard of Oz (USA, 1939)

